EDUCATION

The University of Texas, Austin, TX

December 2024

Bachelor of Arts, Business Economics, Minor in Finance

- Cumulative GPA: 3.71/4.0; Honors: University Honors

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Accenture, New York, NY

March 2025 – Present

Consulting Analyst

- Co-led a 12-week ALM data strategy assessment for a major Japanese bank post-restructure; delivered current-state and gap analysis plus future-state operating model recommendations, driving client leadership to implement governance and technology changes that streamlined decision-making, reducing recurring costs by $4-6M annually.
- Directed hypothesis-driven stakeholder interviews across risk, treasury, and data teams to test root causes of ALM reporting inefficiencies; translated findings into executive-ready recommendations adopted in the bank's ALM team.
- Owned cross-workstream analysis on governance and reporting redesign, aligning C-suite stakeholders on decision tradeoffs and implementation sequencing.
- Synthesized business requirements across two workstreams into a unified execution roadmap, aligning leadership on shared priorities and delivery sequencing.
- Developed Python-based financial analytics MVPs as value-add tools for the client, enabling faster reuse of analytics across future engagements.

Texas McCombs School of Business, Austin, TX

May 2025 – September 2025

Remote Researcher

- Conducted a meta-analysis of 20 years of economics and finance studies for a UT McCombs professor, analyzing how p-hacking influences publication outcomes across journals, geographies, and time.

Accenture, New York, NY

June 2024 – August 2024

Consulting Summer Analyst

- Led independent market sizing and competitive analysis for a telecom client; built empirical model identifying a $20M+ revenue opportunity that informed strategic investment prioritization.
- Presented empirical analysis of client network analytics in standup calls and to the client director (key stakeholder); received praise for introducing a novel and robust analytical approach unique to our vertical.

Accenture, Philadelphia, PA

June 2023 – August 2023

Consulting Summer Analyst

- Led design and implementation of a financial reporting hub and agile cloud network, enhancing KPI visibility in Power BI, improving workflows for 2,500 FTEs, and driving $2M in annual savings.
- Collaborated with senior management to craft a governance model blueprint, presenting it to the client for leadership approval.
